

Welcome to Turtle Talk!

The screenshot shows the content of the "Turtle Talk the Terrapin newsletter" for Volume 14, Number 4, Spring 2019. The layout is organized into columns and sections. At the top right, there is a "35th Anniversary" badge. The main content includes:

- Greetings!: A welcome message for the Spring 2019 issue, celebrating the 35th school year.
- Bee-Bot Curriculum Now Online!: A section highlighting online resources for Bee-Bot lessons and problem-solving.
- Bee-Bot Lessons and Problem-Solving with Bee-Bot: A detailed article about teaching with Bee-Bot, mentioning 100 lessons and 1000 images.
- Problem-Solving with Bee-Bot: A section about sequential challenges on the Card Mat.
- Online curriculum: Information about accessing lessons and challenges online via a login code.
- See the Bee-Bot/Blue-Bot curriculum...: A link to the curriculum resources.
- Play Bee-Bot Pirate - a Coding Game: A section for a coding game, featuring an illustration of two pirates and a map. It includes a quote: "Weigh anchor, move smartly and don't find yerself marooned on a desert island!"
- Gail Lovely: A mention of an early learning educator who introduced the Bee-Bot Pirate Game at the Oklahoma Early Learning Conference.
- Instructions: A note about engaging graphics and obstacles like palm trees and dice faces.
- ISTE in Philadelphia: Information about a digital playground event on Monday, June 24th.
- Read more about the Bee-Bot Pirate Game...: A link to further details.
- Control Blue-Bot with Chromebook: A section about using Blue-Bot with Chromebooks.
- Control Blue-Bot with Chrome and Chromebooks: A section about the new Blue-Bot Control Program.

On the right side of the newsletter, there is a vertical sidebar with several links and announcements:

- In This Issue: Links to Bee-Bot Curriculum Now Online!, Play Bee-Bot Pirate - a Coding Game, and Control Blue-Bot with Chromebook.
- Turtle Talk Archive: A link to the archive.
- Customer Stories: A link to customer stories.
- Discoun Bundles Downloads: A link to download bundles.
- Tips for Ordering: A link to ordering tips.
- DYNAMIC LANDSCAPES: A link to a resource for differentiated learning.
- See Terrapin at VITA-Learn Conference: Information about a conference at Champlain College, Burlington, VT, on May 20-21.
- SEE YOU IN PHILLY!: A link to the ISTE 2019 conference.
- In Booth # 1562: Information about the ISTE 2019 Pennsylvania Convention Center, June 24-26.
- Six Reasons for Coding in K-5 Classrooms...: A link to a blog post by team ISTE.
- The turtle can talk!: A link to a resource about the turtle robot.
- Terrapin Logo can speak: Information about the logo's ability to speak in multiple languages.
- See Bee-Bots and more at these teacher-sponsored events!: A link to teacher-sponsored events.
- EdCamp Classrooms: A link to an event on April 13th.

Turtle Talk is Terrapin's periodic email newsletter covering all things Logo, including Bee-Bot, Blue-Bot, Pro-Bot, InO-Bot, Easi-Scope and turtle robot topics. Subscribe to stay abreast of Logo developments, what others in the Logo community are doing, and for tips and suggestions for both programming and teaching with Logo and turtle robots.

Contributions are welcome. Contact Terrapin to suggest a topic or contribute a story from your experience. You might just see it in the next issue!

Past issues are archived here and indexed on the left by volume and number with the headline from the main story listed. Click on an issue link to read it. Turtle Talk content is also searchable via the search bar so you can query any topic to see if information about it has appeared in the past.

All embedded links in Turtle Talk worked at time of publication. If you run across a link in an older issue that no longer functions, try searching for the topic or send the link to Terrapin and we will try and update it for you.

A Turtle Talk subscription box appears at the bottom right of each page of the Terrapin shop. Simply enter an email address you would like to subscribe to the newsletter and click the Subscribe button.